

Serving the Radio Amateurs

North Mississippi Medical Center recently donated one of the hospitals retired servers to the NorthEast Mississippi Radio Amateurs, a group of amateur radio operators based out of Itawamba County. The server will be used to run various programs for the group, which will aid them in monitoring perilous weather conditions and communications during emergencies. Present were, from left, Shae Collum, Fulton Emergency Management Director, Shane Smith, NMMC, Jeff Clingan, radio amateur member, and Ed Larkin, NMMC.